

UNCLE JOE COMES
BACK--TO CAPITALSpeaker Not Worried Over
His Political Future.

SEES NO TASK AHEAD

Congress Will Give Billion in Supply Bills.Speaking of Democratic Control of House, Cannon Declares Leaders of that Party Will Find It Difficult to Redeem Campaign Pledges and Calls It a Great Mistake--G. O. P.
Need Not Apologize, He Declares.

Looking as fit as a fiddle and apparently undismayed by the recent Democratic victory, "Uncle Joe" Cannon reached Washington last night. If the Speaker has any feelings of apprehension over his political future he does not betray them. He showed some impatience over queries about the Republican leadership in the Democratic Congress, giving his questioners to understand that he was not worrying.

Speaker Cannon does not look for much general legislation at the coming short session of Congress. He thinks that few measures aside from the supply bills will be passed, and predicts that at the coming session, as usual, Congress will appropriate $1,000,000,000 to run the government.

Speaking of Democratic control of the House, Mr. Cannon said the leaders of that party would find it difficult to redeem their campaign pledges. "They promised to reduce the cost of living and increase the price of labor," he said. "Let us see if they will do it."

Calling it a mistake, "It is useless to discuss what is behind us," said Uncle Joe, in reply to a question. "Of course, in my judgment, a majority has made a mistake in giving our friends the Democratic control of the Sixty-second Congress. I understand from last reports that their majority will be sixty-six--a landslide. It is not the first landslide I have witnessed during my service as a Representative, and possibly not the last one I shall live to see. The Republican party has nothing to apologize for touching its policies and the legislation enacted in pursuance thereof."

"The American people were never more prosperous than they are to-day. We are favored with the best crops throughout the country--we have had four years, and while the price of cereals is decreasing, the size of the crop, I believe, will bring the farmer as much as he would have received for a smaller crop at a larger price. It is a saying that corn is meat, and the decrease in the price of breadstuffs will benefit the customers of the farmer without materially affecting his income. At the same time, the wages of labor were never higher than they are to-day."

Long Time in Power. "Sixteen years is a long time for one party to remain in power in the House. Probably half the present voting population has no recollection of the time when the Republican party came into power in the House in 1894, or of living under any other policies than those of the Republican party."

"Our political opponents, having a large majority in House in the Sixty-second Congress, will have full responsibility, and it remains to be seen what they will do. I should be glad if they find themselves able to redeem their promises in the campaign."

"Do you think there will be much general legislation at the approaching short session?" Uncle Joe asked. "Including the permanent appropriations, the appropriations for the public service for the coming fiscal year will be in the neighborhood of $1,000,000,000. The session will expire by limitation on the 4th day of March. There is but scant time to enact efficient legislation making the necessary appropriations."

New Apportionment Needed. "We have just completed the census of 1910, and under the Constitution it becomes the duty of Congress to make a new apportionment. The recent practice has been to do this work at the short session following the taking of the census. This will necessarily consume some time. There are also a number of important bills on the calendar, some of which, I presume, will be reached and disposed of in the ordinary course of business. General legislation that affects the well-being of 90,000,000 people should not be enacted without receiving proper consideration."

"It has been my experience in the House that when a party has been defeated at the polls it has been unable to enact much party legislation at the ensuing short session of Congress."

Speaker Cannon is inclined to believe that in passing the apportionment act Congress will increase materially the unit of representation. He admits that this will bring forth protests from the representatives of such States as Maine, Vermont, Nebraska, and Iowa, which will lose members by an increased unit, but he believes that there is a general disposition to keep the House at approximately its present size.

While the Speaker has not seen the President in recent months, he is of the opinion that Congress will not be called in special session; nor does he think that any serious effort will be made to revise the tariff this winter.

"Uncle Joe" has been in Danville since the election. He has made little or no comment on the results. While he does not say so in terms, Mr. Cannon is evidently of the opinion that the insurgent row in the House had a good deal to do with the landslide.

FORMER CLUBMAN
COMMITTS SUICIDEScion of Wealthy Family
Ends Life a Pauper.

St. Louis, Nov. 25.--Penniless and harassed by disease, B. Campbell Bakewell, of Pittsburg, Pa., cousin of Paul Bakewell, jr., who recently married St. Louis richest millionaire, Miss Mary Fullerton, hanged himself with a rope made of a shirt in a room at the Southern Hotel to-day.

Bakewell was dead when found. A note asking that George Bakewell be notified was found in the room. Bakewell came to St. Louis November 6 and registered at the Southern. He did not let any of his rich relatives know of his arrival, only mentioning them when he was called to account for an overdue bill.

Paul Bakewell, jr., and his father, Paul Bakewell, took charge of the body. Pittsburg, Nov. 25.--Campbell Bakewell, who committed suicide in St. Louis, was formerly a well-known clubman and insurance agent of Pittsburg, and a member of a famous family. He was forty-five years of age and a son of William Bakewell a Pittsburg attorney. His brother, J. K. Bakewell, is a Pittsburg attorney. He leaves a wife and one son in Atlantic City, where they have lived for the past two years. Financial reverses are thought to have caused the act.

AMNESTY FOR ALL.

Mutineers Give Terms on Which They Will Surrender.

Rio de Janeiro, Nov. 25.--The Chamber passed the amnesty bill by a vote of 114 to 23. President Da Fonseca agreed that Deputy Carvalho, who acted as bearer of a flag of truce to the mutineers yesterday to obtain the terms on which they would surrender, should again visit the Sao Paulo and confer with the rebels.

The granting of complete amnesty to the Brazilian sailors who mutinied and took possession of four war vessels in the harbor of Rio de Janeiro caused astonishment in naval circles here. The fact that the mutineers had control of the Minas Geraes and the Sao Paulo, two large and powerful battle ships of the modern type, is believed by naval experts here to be the cause for the lenient treatment of the rebels. These two battle ships are the most formidable in the Brazilian navy, and their loss would be a severe menace to the naval supremacy of Brazil in South American waters. This consideration, it is believed here, was the dominating influence actuating the Brazilian government in granting complete amnesty to the mutineers.

SPANISH PEASANTS REVOLT.

Genardines Quickly Disperse Mob and Restore Order. Coruna, Nov. 25.--Three thousand peasants at Noya, in this Spanish province, being incensed by the official in charge of the provincial custom-house, marched to his residence to-day and stoned it. The genardines arrived promptly and told the mob to disperse. The peasants, instead of obeying, began to stone the genardines, whereupon the latter charged them with drawn swords. Six of the peasants, a lieutenant, a corporal, and a number of the genardines were wounded. Order was ultimately restored.

GIRL HELD PRISONER AS
PARENT SHOOS OFF LOVERMother with Sword Stands Guard Over Daughter While Fiance Lurks Near By.

Springfield, Ohio, Nov. 25.--A prisoner in her own home is Miss Della Hawk, aged nineteen years, because her mother, Mrs. Missouri Hawk, does not want her to marry G. A. Miller, twenty-two years old. Armed with an old sword, Mrs. Hawk holds the house against intruders and refuses to allow her daughter to see Miller.

Finding that persuasion was of no avail, Miller appealed to the police to-day, but they could do nothing for him. Then he went to a magistrate's office and asked for a writ of attachment to get his sweetheart from her home, but the justice shook his head, saying the procedure would be most unusual. Finally he appealed to Probate Judge F. W. Gelfer, who issued a marriage license to Miller last Wednesday. The judge said he was sorry for the young man, but that he could not assist him. Although apparently foiled in his attempts to rescue the girl, Miller says he is not discouraged. It is expected he will make an effort to release her from the upstairs bedroom by means of a ladder when the mother is not looking.

In going about the house, Miller says he finally located Miss Hawk, who was in the sound of her voice. Looking upward, he saw her face pressed against the window pane. She called to him: "Oh, come and get me out!" As she is of legal age, she can marry Miller as soon as she obtains her release. Mrs. Hawk read of the issuing of the license Thursday, and immediately locked the door on the girl while she was preparing to slip quietly out and get married. Miller was ordered from the house, where he has been boarding.

DROP IN MEAT PRICES.

Pork Chops in Kansas City at 15 Cents a Pound. Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 25.--The price of fresh pork took another tumble to-day and some stores sold pork chops for 15 cents a pound. Bacon has declined 2 cents, and another drop is expected, but smoked ham prices have not been reduced. Some grades of round steak are lower in price, and some downtown butchers sold two pounds for 25 cents to-day. The higher beef cuts have not been changed, except in wholesale prices, which is a cent lower than last week. Despite the slow decline of the retail price of beef, cattle are selling at the live-stock yards much cheaper than ten days ago, and a decline in retail prices is expected soon.

WOMEN ARE JAILED.

Fifteen Suffragettes Given Heavy Sentences.

London, November 25.--The severest sentences ever dealt out to suffragettes in England were to-day imposed on fifteen leaders of the mobs of women in the storming of government offices. They were given two months at hard labor, with the option of paying fine. Another was given a month in prison, and five others were fined $10 each. All refused to pay the fines and went defiantly to jail.

"You have been treated with leniency surpassing understanding," declared Magistrate de Reuten, in sentencing the women. Bow Street Court was crowded with spectators, and when the sentences were imposed the suffragettes among the spectators cheered and cried: "Votes for women!" The women who were sentenced took the judge's words calmly and immediately produced handbags containing a change of clothing. The "martyrs" were led away to their cells amid a pandemonium of noise which caused the presiding magistrate to threaten to have the court room cleared by force. The women threatened to disobey prison orders and refuse to eat or work.

TOADSTOOLS FOR DINNER
PUT FOUR IN HOSPITALMushroom "Expert" Starts Riot of Convulsions in Italian Boarding-house.

Peter Staffetta, who conducts an Italian boarding house at 58 C street northwest, served toadstools for dinner yesterday afternoon in the place of mushrooms. Four persons narrowly escaped death. Staffetta has always been considered a mushroom expert and refuses to believe he cannot detect the difference between the dainty and the poisonous growth which so closely resembles the mushroom. But doctors who attended the four victims say the patients were suffering from muscular poisoning, which comes of eating toadstools. Staffetta ate heartily of the mushrooms, as he supposed, and a dozen boarders in addition to those who ate, also partook of their favorite dish, next to pork and corn. And because only four were sick Staffetta insisted that he served mushrooms. "Da odors, dey eat too much," said Staffetta. Before daybreak yesterday the Italian went to a clump of woods near Congress Heights, where in a grove of pines he has been accustomed to gather mushrooms. He filled a small basket with the supposed dainties, but he probably mixed in a few toadstools. He returned to breakfast, but saved the treat of the day for dinner. After dinner little Rebella di Bari, two years old, grew ill. Then Dora Curtolo, fourteen years old, became sick. Mrs. Teresa di Bari, mother of the baby girl, was also taken sick. Mrs. Marie Staffetta was the last of the four to feel the effects. Staffetta grew alarmed and telephoned to "Caselli Hospital." An ambulance was sent to the boarding house and the four patients were removed to the hospital. Physicians found difficulty in saving the life of Rebella di Bari, who was suffering from convulsions when she reached the hospital. They remained at the hospital until after 10 o'clock, and were removed home in a cab. Physicians believe all will recover. Police of the Sixth precinct were notified and Bicycle Policeman James A. Davis made an investigation. He found no suspicious circumstances in connection with the case.

CELLS FOR SEERS.

New York Police Gather in Sixteen Palms.

New York, Nov. 25.--A squad of forty headquarters detectives stood out this afternoon to raid some thirty or more fortune tellers and palmists. By 9 o'clock they had bagged sixteen, and were still looking for others. The arrests were made on warrants issued on November 23 by Chief Magistrate McAdoo. A mass of evidence lies at police headquarters waiting to be used against the prisoners and prospective prisoners.

GOTHAM WATCHES SHIPWRECK.

Occupants of Office Buildings See Schooner Go on Rocks.

New York, Nov. 25.--Occupants of the lofty buildings near the Battery whose windows happened to look to the south had the rare diversion to-day of seeing a shipwreck without leaving their desks. A high wind and the strong tides which accompanied to-day's rainstorm were too much for the three-masted schooner Alice B. Phillips, and she went on the rocks at the north end of Governors Island, near the ferry slip, with all sails set. Capt. Coffin, the skipper, signaled for assistance, and several tugs and police launches put out from the Battery to go to the aid of the crew. With the help of the tugs the vessel was floated several hours later on the rising tide.

TOLSTOI'S WIDOW ILL.

Count's Will Made Daughter Alexandra His Literary Legatee. St. Petersburg, Nov. 25.--A newspaper dispatch from Tula to-day says that Countess Tolstoy is ill, having a temperature of 102.9.

The will of the late Count Tolstoy makes his daughter Alexandra the legatee of his unpublished works. The advanced parties in the Duma have introduced two bills appropriating national money to commemorate Tolstoy. The proposals, which are hopeless of adoption, include the buying of his estate at Yasnaya Polyana and his literary productions, establishing universities and erecting a monument at Moscow.

KIDNAP A STUDENT.

Sophs Carry Off President of Penn
Freshies.

Wilmington, Del., Nov. 25.--Under guard of a party of sophomore students, it was announced to-day that William Dougherty, of Philadelphia, president of the freshman class, University of Pennsylvania, is being held prisoner on board a motor boat in the Delaware River, opposite here. He will be detained, it is said, until after the annual boat fight between the sophomores and freshmen at Franklin Field next Wednesday. This will prevent him from participating in the scowp.

Although the method of detaining Dougherty is radical, he is well provided for, the boat being well stocked with provisions. Members of the freshmen class began to search the river for their president. He will be detained, it is said, until after the annual boat fight between the sophomores and freshmen at Franklin Field next Wednesday. This will prevent him from participating in the scowp.

PASSENGERS IN PANIC.

Storm at Sea Causes Women in Steerage to Go Into Hysterics. New York, Nov. 25.--Eleven hundred and eighty-five steerage passengers on the North German Lloyd liner Koenig Albert, which arrived to-day from Europe, grew so hysterical with fright at a storm in the high seas that they had to be locked up. With screams of fright, mingled with loud shouts and prayers, they battered against the locked door, and many of them did not sleep during the twenty-four hours that the tornado raged. The ship rolled so violently that many of the immigrants thought she would go to pieces. Women became hysterical and fainted. The storm did not abate until yesterday.

ASQUITH-OPENS CAMPAIGN.

Prime Minister Opposed to Rosebery and Lansdowne Plan. London, Nov. 25.--Prime Minister Asquith to-day made his first speech of the campaign at Hull. He described Lord Rosebery's and Lord Lansdowne's resolutions as crude, incomplete schemes, which were merely invitations to the Liberals to substitute one set of shackles for another. He declared that Lord Rosebery's resolution would make the upper house as overwhelming and permanently conservative as it is now. He said he did not begrudge the Tories whatever political capital could be made out of American dollars, but they seemed to forget that the electors were not under the domination of John Redmond, the Irish leader.

MEYER TO REMAIN.

Secretary Not Seeking Lodge's Seat in the Senate.

Secretary of the Navy Meyer yesterday denied that he was a candidate for the United States Senate in Massachusetts to succeed Henry Cabot Lodge. This rumor has been circulated in political circles for the last several weeks.

Mr. Meyer made his denial as emphatic as possible. He said that Senator Lodge did not intend to withdraw from the race, and that he was supporting the Senator in his campaign for re-election. Mr. Meyer added that he believed Senator Lodge would be re-elected. On receipt of Friends of Mr. Meyer said that he finds his present office thoroughly congenial, and they claim that he is not likely to relinquish it in the near future.

Secretary Meyer and Senator Lodge are close personal as well as political friends.

"SHORT AND UGLY"
LEADS TO BANQUETGen. Powell Initiated and Gets Ananias Medal.

Columbus, Ohio, Nov. 25.--A unique affair resulting from the late campaign was a dinner given here to-night to Gen. Thomas E. Powell, celebrating his initiation to the Ananias Club.

This resulted from his telegram to Theodore Roosevelt, the day preceding Roosevelt's entry into Ohio to speak against Gov. Harmon, advising him that the governor was the same Judson Harmon, who, as special counsel, advised him to proceed against Paul Morton for rebating when he was a member of the Roosevelt Cabinet, and who resigned when the administration failed to proceed, and originated the slogan "kult is personal."

He asked why the President did not "kult" Paul Morton when shown the way by Judson Harmon. On receipt of the telegram, Roosevelt pronounced Powell a liar, and proceeded to denounce Harmon, and said he had been recent to the people, with the result that the official returns show Harmon received 104,000 plurality.

This consignment of Gen. Powell, who was a former Democratic candidate for governor, to the Ananias Club was a vocative of much amusement throughout the State, and crystallized in a dinner here to-night, at which he was presented with a gold medal as the only Ohio resident member of the Ananias Club, at Bellamy and Mrs. Storv now reside in Paris.

There was a distinguished list, numbered among others, six Democratic candidates for United States Senator and one Republican ex-candidate. The dinner was entirely nonpartisan.

DIES FROM BLOW.

Maine Boxer Never Regains Consciousness After Fight.

Presque Isle, Me., Nov. 25.--Billy Dunning, a well-known Maine heavy-weight boxer, died here this afternoon without regaining consciousness following a bout with Jack Leon, "the Russian Lion," at the Presque Isle Opera House, last night.

Dunning was knocked out in the fifth round of what was to have been a six-round bout, with a hard right swing on the jaw. His head hit the floor with considerable force, and after his seconds had carried him to his corner he failed to revive.

Physicians were called and worked over him all night, but were unable to restore him to consciousness. An autopsy will be performed to-morrow to determine the cause of death.

Dunning is said to have been in poor condition when he entered the ring. Leon is well known as a winner, recent fights took up boxing. Dunning boxed Jack Johnson ten rounds about five years ago here, and secured a draw.

GIRL MARRIES FIRST LOVE

Special to The Washington Herald. Marinette, Wis., Nov. 25.--After a hundred guests had assembled to-day for the wedding of Mary Louise Gardner, of Sycamore, Ill., to Benjamin Nelson, of Lena, Wis., Nelson failed to appear at the appointed time. Carl Johnson, one of the guests from the bride's home city, stepped forward and offered to take the place of the missing bridegroom. Johnson was a former sweetheart of the bride. His offer was accepted.

The ceremony was performed at the scheduled time by Justice Vanderberg. Monominee's famous marrying parson. Nothing daunted by her experience, the bride went through all the functions of the wedding, including a big dinner at her sister's home after the ceremony. Mrs. Johnson says she really liked her present husband better than her missing fiancé.

REWARD FOR MADERO

Government Will Pay $25,000 for Leader, Dead or Alive.

Statement from Gen. Reyes in France Greatly Strengthens Diaz, for It Shows Lack of Leader for the Revolutionary Element--Persons of Importance Arrested When About to Start for Vera Cruz.

Galveston, Tex., Nov. 25.--With orders to take no prisoners and shoot any and all persons taking up arms against the government, the Mexican troops have literally strewn their marches with dead revolutionists and even innocent natives.

In several houses in Puebla, in Parral, in San Antonio, and other towns ten and fifteen bodies have been found where they fell when the troops shot into the buildings. On the roads leading from many places where the revolutionists were routed their dead are found where the soldiers pursued and shot them when fleeing.

Officers of the army say there will be few if any arrests, even of known leaders, because when discovered they are certain to either try to escape or fight and will be shot down.

Kill Personal Enemies. It is feared many soldiers have killed their personal enemies under the liberal orders issued them to shoot all revolutionists.

Openly charging Francisco I. Madero with organizing and directing the present disturbance, the Mexican government has offered a reward of $25,000 for him dead or alive. In Mexican army circles the report is current that President Diaz will add a personal reward of $50,000 extra if Madero is captured alive. The report that he was wounded is not credited here.

Reyes Remains Loyal. Mexico City, Nov. 25.--The statement which Gen. Bernardino Reyes issued from Paris, France, yesterday in regard to the revolutionary situation in this country, and in which he affirms his loyalty to the administration of President Diaz and belittles the present uprisings, was widely published in Mexico to-day.

It was wired by the government to all parts of the republic, and orders were given to the authorities of the different districts that the people be made acquainted with the statement. It came as a telling blow to the ardor and hopes of the revolutionary leaders, who have been diligently circulating the report that Reyes was back of the present movement and was even on his way to Mexico to assume command of the revolutionary forces.

Gen. Reyes' statement makes it probable that the army will remain loyal to the present administration no matter what the turn of events may be. It is the hope in high official circles that the stand which Gen. Reyes has taken will cause a speedy dissolution of the armed bands that are still roving in some parts of the country.

Will Enter Cabinet. The report is current that President Diaz will restore Reyes to his former position as minister of war when he enters upon his new administration, December 1.

Seven men were arrested this afternoon by government detectives while trying to board a special train to Vera Cruz. They had arranged with the Mexican Central Railroad that the train should be on a side track at 5 o'clock. Their actions excited suspicion, and when they went to board the train they found policemen waiting for them. The police refuse to divulge the names of the prisoners, but they are said to be persons of importance.

Rebels Are Scattered. El Paso, Nov. 25.--"The revolutionists are all either dead, in jail, or running in the mountains with Mexican troops hot after them." is the blunt way that George Rutledge puts it. Rutledge is superintendent of the F. S. Patterson interests in Mexico, and has a large territory in Chihuahua, much of it in the region affected by the recent disturbances. Madero, one of the towns recently captured by the rebels, is the headquarters of the road. A late telegram came from W. C. Stewart, chief clerk of the company at Madero, declaring that there had never

BROTHER SHOOT'S ELOPERS.

Wounds His Sister and Her Sweetheart in Crowded Street.

Pittsburg, Mass., Nov. 25.--Driven to a frenzy when his sister, Stravroula Neceta, twenty years old, ran away with her lover, Gustaf Telatas, twenty-two years, Peter Neceta, twenty-three years old, trailed the pair and to-day in crowded Monument square, in the center of the city, shot the elopers down from behind. Neceta escaped from a pursuing crowd of about 100 men and boys, after a long run, and hid himself in the entryway of a house and compelled the police to break down the doors before submitting to capture.

Telatas was shot through the back and the left hand, the bullet through the back penetrating the lung. The girl was shot in the left hand. Monday night the girl left her home and went away with her lover. Since then Peter has been searching the city for trace of them. He purchased a .44-caliber revolver, about a foot long, and several boxes of cartridges. To friends he said of the towns first his sister and average himself on both her and her lover. This forenoon Telatas and Miss Neceta were walking together down Broad street and had reached Monument square when Neceta crept up behind and began shooting.
